

The DIY Lounge at collage - Don't Deny Your DIY - www.diylounge.com

Songwriting - What is your song?

The show does not have any dates scheduled at the moment (I had had quite a few, but schedule was dense all the time)

When to know when the show will be scheduled? see our mailing list for the latest updates on shows.

Class Description:

How, you you can write songs that have been here in the alternative, but, for personal class. Throughout history people have used song to express emotions and experiences today. In this day we have to write together the struggles and pain of human existence. If you could write about a song, or if you're in the middle of writing one and would like some feedback, join the show in a conversation and songwriting session in which we'll discuss and put into practice the elements of a good song, sources of inspiration, song structure, the songwriter's role, opportunities to practice songwriting with an audience and much more!

Special notes and items to bring:

To have fun, come with a guitar and give us the show!

Class Dates/Repeat:

Teacher:

Ivy Ross

Length: 1 hour

Multi-level: Beginner/Intermediate

Age: 18 and up

Read this before you register

DIY Lounge provides a collage of locally owned business that sells merchandise with a show space in the back. The address is 1000 Hill Street, NW, Seattle, WA 98107.

We require a 15 minute registration time a show. If registration is late, the show will be cancelled and any students who have registered will be notified by email.

If a show is cancelled we will apply your payment toward another show, registration or refund your money to full, your choice.

Children are registered for free, but registration fee is made on a case by case basis. If you require an exception, please see our cancellation policy and/or us before your class.

We don't ask for a fee, but it is required if you need to cancel your class registration.

We want to thank the supply for providing to the show space and bring their items with you to the show.

© 2011 DIY Lounge. All rights reserved.